lists In Provo. (Special Correspondence.) Provo, Dec. 29.—In spite of opposition from the clergy and others the prepara-tions for the boxing contest, sparring contest, between Williams and Bean goes on without Interruption. President Part-ridge and Rev. J. C. Andrews have pubon without interruption. President Partiridge and Rev. J. C. Andrews have published icters against the contest and Mayor Jones has published one in favor of it, not particularly favorable from a personal point of view, but favoring the right of the people to have what they want, so long as no law is violated. The difference between the two factions, one in favor of the fight and one against it, larges upon the interpretation of the law, and upon a definition of what the proposed entertainment is prizeficial or sparring contest. Mr. Andrews will, unless he changes his mind, have the principals and seconds arrested, or swear out a complaint for their arrest. How far that will effect the fight is uncertain. Bean's backers have no fear of the outcome: they claim they are within the law and propose to stay there, Bean was seen this afternoon by The Horald representative, but he did not care to say much for publication before the fight. "We propose," said he, "to give a clean sparring exhibition. If it should degenerate to stop it, and, so far as I am concerned, I want them to do so. I have no desire to violate the law for that matter, I don't blame anyoody, but this opposition arrested unless we break the law. I don't want to break the law."

BEST NICARAGUA CANAL ROUTE

Construction of the Canal Is Entirely

Washington, Dec. 29.-The full text of the preliminary report of the Nicaragua canal commission was today made public. It says:

The commission believes that the construction of a canal across Nica-construction of a canal across Nicaragua is entirely feasible. The estimates of the two best known characteristic routes have been nearly completed. These routes are known as the Maritime Canal company's route and the Lull route. Their estimated cost is approximately $124,000,000 and $125,000,000 respectively.

'The assumed dimensions are considerably greater than ever before proposed, both in length of locks and in width, depth and radius of curvature of canal. These increased dimensions have been made necessary by the demands of modern commerce, size and draft of modern commerce, size and draft of modern ships, etc. This has necessarily made a corresponding increase in the estimated cost and is in no way inconsistent with the estimates made from former surveys, which contemplated a much smaller and cheaper canal.
